The route Faroe Islands–Scrabster

Faroe Ship has established a route to Scrabster in Scotland especially intended for export of iced fish and fillets from the Faroe Islands to the British and European markets.

The Faroe Ship vessel leaves the Faroe Islands late Friday evening and arrives in Scrabster about 18 hours later. This is the latest weekly departure for fresh fish export from the Faroes. In addition, it gives exporters the advance of reaching Boulogne in France with their goods Monday morning before work starts.
